

Jaqueline Mack – Co-opted Governor

One of the things I did a few years back was to volunteer to be a school governor. What an amazing privilege that has been for me here at St Peter's! I monitor PSHE, which stands for personal, social, health and economic education. It is a school curriculum subject that helps children and young people stay safe, healthy, and be prepared for life.

PSHE education can cover many areas of study. Some of the subjects are; physical health; mental health and relationships and one of the ways I have promoted this is through singing. I belong to a group of singers called Monday Musickers, which Grenville Hancox leads. We all sing our hearts out on a Monday and I had an idea about intergenerational singing. With the approval of the Headteacher and unanimously supported by the Governing Board for the children to be involved in this.

With Grenville Hancox taking the teaching role Monday 8th July, was our third performance with the children of St. Peter's School and Monday Musickers. The children, aged 6-11, who we last sang with a little while ago, still remembered the words. They were singing in canons, singing in tune with gusto and joy too. It was an amazing experience, which we all enjoyed immensely. Then children sang all the way back to the school. Three more sessions are planned for this academic year!
