Developing Music in your Primary School - A Self-Assessment Document

About this self-assessment document

This resource has been written by Kent Music to support Kent schools as part of our Curriculum Support offer. The aim of this document is to provide an opportunity for reflection of your current music provision and an opportunity to plan and develop your school music vision. The refreshed National Plan for Music Education, published in June 2022 recommends all schools have a Music Development Plan in place to show their ongoing commitment to the development of music in their school.

Its intended audience is Headteachers, Senior Leadership Teams and School Music Leads.

How to use this document

Step 1: In collaboration with your school/department establish your vision for music

Step 2: Using the music provision self-assessment table, assess your current provision thinking about your newly created vision. Source evidence to back up your findings.

Step 3: Write a plan of action to identify how you will achieve your vision from your current position. How will you address the gaps in your provision?

Step 4: Review the impact the strategy has had on music in school and adjust your vision when necessary.

STEP ONE – CREATING A VISION FOR MUSIC IN YOUR SCHOOL

What is a vision

In the busy day-to-day life of a Music department, it can be difficult to see beyond the demands of teaching your classes, dealing with students and colleagues, and managing administrative tasks. However, it is essential that you find time to step back and look at the bigger picture and spend some time reflecting on your current position and thinking about where you see your department in the future.

The decision that you make will become the vision for your department.

Why is it important

A vision allows your department to work towards the same goal. This can often be a challenge in a music department as there are often so many areas of focus. If you lead a team, it's beneficial to complete this process together because it not only provides you with different opinions and ideas but also creates a more supportive environment where staff are invested in the long-term vision. If you have sole responsibility for music you may benefit from collaborating or linking with another school. Your Music Education Hub can help you to facilitate this if you don't know where to start. If that is not possible or you prefer to work independently then a vision will help you to keep track of your goals and progress towards them.

It's important to consider your school's ethos and vision when completing your departmental plans so that your vision aligns with the school's overall aims.

Things to consider when creating your vision

What do you think the purpose of studying music is?

How do you want your pupils to be changed by music?

What is your ultimate goal?

How does your department contribute to the school ethos?

How do you envisage all elements of musical provision working together: 1-1 tuition, small group tuition whole class and curriculum music.

Our vision for Music

Music is a stimulus and a way of expressing emotions. It can be used as part of a rich curriculum linking pupils to different times, places and cultures. Pupils should have opportunity both to listen to and make music in order to develop their own skills and interests. In order to do this at St Peter's we:

give pupils the opportunity to listen, perform and enjoy music enable pupils to express feelings and ideas through music;

give pupils some understanding of music from different cultures, times and places;

enable pupils to acquire and develop the musical skills involved in performing, composing, listening and appraising.

Through the music curriculum, teachers aim to give pupils the opportunity to work and perform in groups or individually. All pupils have the opportunity to work with instruments and to sing.

In music teachers will:

provide opportunities for group and individual work;

provide a range of experiences including listening, playing and singing;

encourage pupils to evaluate their experience;

encourage pupils to improve their performance;

develop opportunities for pupils to perform.

Beyond the curriculum, we aim to develop the cultural capital of all pupils by providing the opportunity to take part in musical experiences and by making links within the local community.
